Taft Back Home After Windup Of His Campaign

Ferguson Talks In Youngstown; Lausche, Ebright To Debate

(By The Associated Press) Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) made the last personal appearance of his re-election campaign last night. The end of his vote-seeking trail, which began a year and uncounted thousands of miles ago, came at Ottawa.

The senior senator from Ohio drove through a cold rain early today to his Cincinnati home. Only two radio talks stand between him and election day next Tuesday. On occasions during the last year, he has made as many as a dozen public appearance speeches in a single day.

Probably no other candidate in the history of Ohio politics has made so many speeches, traveled so many miles or come face-to-face with so many voters as has Taft in the now-ending campaign.

Tireless Campaigner

Newsmen scarcely half Taft's age have reached a state of near exhaustion after following the senator for only a few days. But still the Republican policy leader of the senate has gone on and on, telling the voters of Ohio:

"Elect a congress which will stand up and oppose the spread of communism both at home and abroad. We must do this if we want to protect our liberty and maintain our system of free enterprise in America."

That has been the theme which has threaded its way throughout his campaign. He repeated it last night at Ottawa.

Taft's Democratic opponent, State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson, still is on the road. He made a series of brief appearances last night at five Democratic rallies. He is campaigning at Youngstown today.

Ferguson told a Cleveland Negro meeting last night he saw in a speech favorable to Taft Wednesday by Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) proof that his opponent has "made a deal with the Dixiecrats."

(The Dixiecrats are a group of southern Democrats who bolted the party in 1948 in a quarrel with President Truman over civil rights proposals.) Ferguson's charge linking Taft with the Dixiecrats is not new. He has made it several times before.

Cleveland labor leaders earlier in the day predicted industrial Cuyahoga county will give Ferguson a substantial majority. Elwood Dietrich, director of Cleveland's Political Action Committee (CIO) placed the Democrat's edge at "more than 150,000."

Lt. Gov. George D. Nye also took a try at predicting next Tuesday's vote outcome—but his estimating was in the gubernatorial race between Democratic incumbent Frank J. Lausche and Republican challenger Don H. Ebright. Nye predicted Lausche "will be re-elected by the greatest majority in the history of the state."

Lausche took a day off from campaigning yesterday while Ebright was stumping in Cleveland. Said Ebright: The Lausche administration has spent "more money than ever before in history."

"We can properly ask: What have we received for it?" Ebright and Lausche engage in a debate today before the Cleveland City Club. Except for a few relatively minor activities, it will close the campaign for both.

Chest Drive Needs $2,000 To Meet Goal

Only four more days to collect $2,000 is the battle cry of the Community Chest fund drive workers today, after three weeks of active campaigning.

Stephen A. Gonda, campaign chairman, indicated that the drive will end Wednesday. He said approximately $39,000 has been collected through soliciting and donations toward the $41,080 goal.

A new appeal was issued today to the Salem area residents who have not as yet contributed to the fund to mail or take their donations to the Chamber of Commerce office.

VOTE SUPPLIES ISSUED

The county board of elections is issuing supplies today to precinct judges in preparation for the Tuesday election, it is announced.

The Taft Issue

(AN EDITORIAL)

ROBERT A. TAFT of Ohio is the man the American socialists want most to beat in the congressional elections of 1950.

He has become the Winston Churchill of politics in the United States—the leader of the loyal opposition.

As long as he remains in the U. S. Senate, the socialist planners who are calling the signals for the Truman administration will have to step around him.

That is why he has been ticketed for the full treatment of the C. I. O. and A. F. L. and their allies in the Ohio election. What would have been, otherwise, an ordinary campaign for re-election against a candidate by the Democratic party has turned into a showdown on the power of the American socialists. The Democrats are on the sidelines. They are not in favor of socialism.

No one believes the rank and file of the labor unions in this country are in favor of socialism, either. But no one believes that ordinary working people who belong to unions are in favor of a lot of the things their leadership is doing.

Truman Guarded On St. Louis Trip

Delivers Political Speech There Tonight

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4—(AP)—An extraordinarily heavy guard was thrown around President Truman today in preparation for his flight to St. Louis for his only major 1950 political campaign address tonight.

Alerted by Wednesday's assassination attempt, the Secret Service pressed all available federal, state and local peace officers in to service to protect Mr. Truman here and in Missouri.

The President and Mrs. Truman were to attend funeral services at 11 a. m. for Police Private Leslie Coffelt, who was fatally wounded in the armed attack on their Blair House residence by two Puerto Rican nationalists.

At 2 p. m. the President is scheduled to take off for Scott air force base in Illinois, 20 miles south of St. Louis. He speaks at 10 tonight in Kiel auditorium where he climaxed his 1948 "give 'em hell" election campaign with a fighting Saturday night political talk.

The general public was excluded from both the Military Air Transport Service (MATS) airport in Washington for the takeoff and from Scott air force base for the landing.

Police Chief Jeremiah O'Connell assigned 600 St. Louis policemen—double the usual number—to guard the President during his stay there. All 211 of the city's police captains were given assignments at Mr. Truman's hotel, the auditorium and along the route the President travels in St. Louis.

Mr. Truman completed work yesterday on a 25-minute talk summing up the Democratic issues of the congressional campaign, his first frankly political talk since the outbreak of the war in Korea.

In urging support of his party's candidates, the President is expected to contend that continued Democratic control of Congress is necessary.

1. To check this country's greatest danger—that raised by "international communism."

2. To provide the living standards at home that will make it impossible for communism to get a major foothold here.

LIGHT SNOW REPORTED SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 4—Light snow mixed with rain fell in Springfield today as the temperature dropped to 38 degrees.

OHIO SUPREME COURT JUSTICE Carl V. Weygant, chief justice of the Ohio Supreme court, will address members of the Salem Rotary club at the luncheon meeting Tuesday noon in the Lape hotel.

Justice Weygant's subject will be, "If You Were a Judge."

The speaker will come to Salem from Cleveland after he has voted there Tuesday morning. Weygant, who began the practice of law in Cleveland in 1918 and later became a common pleas judge and an appellate jurist, has been chief justice of the Supreme Court of Ohio since 1933.

Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp of Columbiana county and other Salem members of the bar will be guests at the Rotary meeting.

Harold Musser is program chairman for the day.

Snow, Rain To Slow Grid Games Today

CHICAGO, Nov. 4—(AP)—Snow or rain pelted a wide section of the nation today—and thousands of football fans reached for their slickers and topcoats.

A brisk wind whipped heavy flakes of snow during the morning in Chicago and suburban Evanston, where Ohio State meets Northwestern. But the weather forecaster said it probably would stop before 2 p. m.

Snow also fell in Ann Arbor, scene of the Michigan-Illinois game. A mixture of snow and rain was reported in eastern Illinois, Indiana and Southern Michigan.

There was rain from Cleveland east to the Atlantic seaboard.

But good football weather prevailed from the Chicago area west to the Pacific coast.

The weather was chilly in the Midwest. It was cool as far south as Kentucky and Tennessee.

U. N. May Reject Russian Plan

German Unification Conference Unlikely

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4—(AP)—A Russian proposal to talk over a Communist plan for unifying Germany appeared headed today for quick rejection by the United States, Britain and France.

A note proposing a meeting of foreign ministers of the four nations to discuss the plan was handed U. S. Ambassador Alan G. Kirk in Moscow last night. Kirk told the state department similar notes were being given the French and British ambassadors.

The Communist plan, first proposed Oct. 27 at Prague, calls for creation of an all German constitutional council to set up a single government for the entire country. It also would ban German rearmament and require withdrawal of occupation troops.

American officials termed the new Russian invitation "a propaganda stunt" aimed at scuttling western plans to rearm western Germany as a barrier against Communism.

They confidently predicted London and Paris would give it a similar cool reception.

Western leaders already had denounced the plan as a Moscow-inspired effort to sow confusion in Germany and France. It was drafted by V. M. Molotov, Russian deputy foreign minister, and the foreign ministers of seven Soviet-dominated East European governments.

One of its main points was a proposal that the United States, Britain, France and Russia pledge "they will not allow remilitarization of Germany and her being dragged into any aggressive plans."

Plane Spotters To Get Practice

Mock Air Attack To Be Held In Area

Salem's newly organized Ground Observers Corps will get its first chance at plane detecting today or Sunday when an unknown number of planes are scheduled to fly in a simulated air attack over the area.

The notification came from the Civil Air Raid Observation Post at Stewart Air Force base in Newburg, N. Y. The planes will fly over Salem in the daylight hours between 9 a. m. and 6 p. m. either today or Sunday.

Balford Dixon, supervisor of the local observation unit, which was formed directly under the Air Force said it was not known how many planes would participate, where they would come from or whether or not they would fly in a group.

The 16 observers in the local post will note and report to the Civil Defense Organization, headed by Loren D. Early, all planes except those which are obviously landing or taking off at local airports. It also will give the observers an opportunity of plane identification practice, Mr. Early said.

John King is chief observer of the local unit comprised of James F. Helman, James Baxter, Herbert Jacobsen, Robert Bielski, Dale Engel, Paul Polson, Clyde Dole, Herbert F. Kelley, Wallace Stewart, Leo Beall, Howard Pardee, Robert Schaeffer, Walter Yarian, Fred Limestahl, Thomas Crothers and Harold Smith.

Car Skids, Smashes Into Three Vehicles

The car driven south on S. Broadway by William A. Humphrey, 18, of R. D. 2, Salem, skidded on the wet pavement at 2:05 a. m. today and collided with three autos parked along the west side of the street.

Humphrey told police he applied the brakes to his auto in an attempt to stop for a red light at Franklin st. J. F. Kirkham of North Jackson was the owner of one of the cars that the Humphrey auto hit. Owners of the other two vehicles could not immediately be located, police said.

Minor damages were caused the three parked vehicles. The right side and a wheel of Humphrey's car also were damaged.

Six Chinese Red Divisions Enter Battle

BULLETIN
EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Nov. 4—(AP)—An American spokesman of the Korean military advisory group said tonight that the South Korean army estimates six Chinese Communist divisions have entered Korea to oppose the allies.

SEOUL, Nov. 4—(AP)—Allied forces forged a firm line today against Chinese and Korean Communist resistance—a line that stood unbroken in the face of renewed Red attacks.

A U. S. Eighth army spokesman said "the equivalent of" at least two Chinese divisions are battling United Nations forces in northwest Korea.

On the Korean east coast, the U. S. Marines still were in trouble.

A Marine spokesman said a third—and full—Chinese Communist division was identified in that sector, around the Changjin reservoir. Previously, two Chinese regiments were identified officially in the area.

But the victory that had seemed so simple last month had changed complexion. One high-ranking Eighth army officer said the Reds probably have 300,000 troops deployed along the Korean-Manchurian border.

The spokesman said the Chinese Reds may have 1,000,000 or more troops within "committing distance," meaning they could strike from their present locations.

However, intelligence officers said there still was no determination about whether Red China had sent regular divisions into Korea.

As yet, they said, there is no "pattern of proof."

In the most crucial area, at Unsan and Kunu inland from the west coast, General MacArthur's headquarters said the entire withdrawal strategy is "almost complete."

The situation there appeared, on the basis of field dispatches, to be stabilized.

In northwest Korea, half of a trapped regiment of the U. S. First Cavalry division escaped to the new U. N. defense line from a trap sprung Thursday by the Korean Reds. The Reds were aided by Chinese Communist troops.

On the northwest front, the American Marine Seventh regiment ran into trouble on a drive northwest of Sudong, 20 miles north of the east coast industrial city of Hamhung. The Marines are driving toward the Changjin reservoir, one of the two power dams serving both North Korea and southern Manchuria.

Weather Grounds Airmen
The weather continued bad for Allied air forces. Intermittent rains and low clouds hampered close fighter support. Observation planes were able to spot enemy forces moving southeast from the Yalu river boundary of Manchuria. But there was no indication that the movement was large scale.

Marine planes were supplying two battalions of U. S. Leathernecks cut off on their drive to the power dam in the northeast. The Marines were extended. One battalion was encircled just west of Wonsan, where the Marines landed last week. Other units were strung out more than 100 miles from the Sudong area to a point 30 miles south of Wonsan.

On the northwest front, at least half of the U. S. First Cavalry division's Eighth regiment had escaped from a trap sprung Thursday near Unsan. A U. S. Eighth army spokesman said there was reason to believe that the other would make it safely south.

There was no further word of another unit of the First Cavalry—about half a battalion—that was trapped west of Unsan in the heavy Communist counterthrust.

The U. S. First Cavalry had gone to the rescue of the badly-mauled Republic of Korea (ROK) Sixth division, which plunged spearheads last week all the way to the Manchurian border.

The Red counterattack, in and around Onjong, cut the ROK Sixth division into pieces. The division's Seventh regiment, which lunged beyond Chosan to reach the Yalu river boundary, was cut off and retreated southward.

Air observers reported Saturday that the regiment had disappeared. At last reports, it was trying to cut across mountainous roads to join the remnants of the Sixth division.

Generally, the U. N. lines were holding firm in the vicinity of the Chongchon river. But the Reds were keeping up the pressure. The South Korean First division was under a seven-hour assault seven miles south of Unsan.

Lisbon Driver Fatally Hurt

Oscar Rowe Is Victim; Daughter Is Injured

Whether the car skidded on a curve was not learned immediately.

Mr. Rowe suffered a broken back, fractured ribs and a punctured lung and died shortly after being brought to the hospital.

The daughter, Eileen, whose condition is described as poor, suffered a possible broken back and fractured skull.

The hospital reported that only five days ago a two-year old child of the family was discharged from the hospital after having been seriously ill with a tetanus infection.

Ski Party Searches Alps For Lost Plane

GENEVA, Switzerland, Nov. 4—(AP)—Scores of ski-equipped rescue parties hunted today for traces of an airliner believed to have crashed in the snow-capped Alps near the French-Italian border with 40 Indian sailors and eight crewmen.

THE PARABLES -- 5

The Wise And Foolish Virgins

THEN shall the kingdom of heaven be likened unto ten virgins, which took their lamps and went to meet the bridegroom. And five were wise, and five were foolish. They that were foolish took their lamps, and took no oil with them: But the wise took oil in their vessels. While the bridegroom tarried, they all slept. And at midnight there was a cry, Behold, the bridegroom cometh; go to meet him. Then all those virgins arose, and trimmed their lamps. And the foolish said unto the wise, Give us of your oil; for our lamps are gone out. But the wise answered, saying, Not so; lest there be not enough for us and you: but go rather and buy for yourselves. And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came, and they that were ready went in with him to the marriage: and the door was shut.

Afterward came the other virgins, saying, Lord, Lord, open to us. But he answered, I know you not. Watch therefore, for ye know neither the day nor the hour wherein the Son of man cometh. (From St. Matthew, 25: 1-13)

Confident Living

By DR. NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Don't Lose Your Enthusiasm

GRENVILLE KLEISER tells the story of the time the Devil decided to retire and go out of business. So he advertised all of his working tools for sale. In his advertisement, the tools he listed first were greed, malice, brutality, lust. As might be expected, he put a very high price on them.

But he listed one tool at a price far beyond the already high prices of the others. This tool was labeled "depression." And, when prospective customer asked why this one tool was more expensive than all the others combined, the Devil answered: "With depression I can pry into the control center of a man, disrupting his thoughts and undermining his character. Then I can do anything I like with him."

There is more truth than fiction in this story. What may not seem to be a cardinal sin can often be more destructive than some of the more obvious sins. And depression is such a sin because it is a creeping paralysis which takes the joy and power out of living.

It happens to be my professional duty to fight the Devil in any way I can. And I have learned that enthusiasm is the best way to fight his favorite sin of depression. We must keep enthusiasm in our lives always.

IT IS STRANGE and pathetic how some people lose their enthusiasm early in life while others maintain it until old age. I recently came across two items I clipped from a newspaper many years ago. One told of the suicide of a girl of twenty-one. She had left a note reading: "I am twenty-one. I have seen everything, I know everything. I don't like life; it's cheap, dirty, disappointing. I've had all I want of it." So she ended her young life with a bullet.

The other clipping contained another story from the same newspaper on the same day. It told about a luncheon which had been held in that same city for John Burroughs, the famous na-uralist, on the occasion of his eighty-first birthday. His statement, as printed in the newspaper, read: "I haven't lived long enough. I have seen only a little of the wonders of this world. There are so many things that I don't know and want to know. I have enjoyed every minute of this life. I would like to live every day of it over again."

What is the difference between the twenty-one year old girl, who, fed-up and disgusted, took her own life, and the grand old man of eighty-one, still eager and wanting more of life? The difference is simply that the latter learned to keep his enthusiasm intact. And that is exactly what faith in Almighty God can help us to do.

ONE OF THE most beautiful pieces of literature in the world is the fifty-fifth chapter of Isaiah in the Old Testament. "Ho, everyone that thirsteth, come ye to the waters," and again "Incline your ear and come unto me: hear, and your soul shall live." Listen to this life-giving message, take it in, and you can fill yourself with vitality and zest, so much so that "The mountains and the hills shall break forth before you into singing, and all the trees of the fields shall clap their hands."

One of the secrets of maintaining enthusiasm is to use such ideas as these from the Bible as a constant inspiration. I pointed out before that the reason many people do not have enthusiasm is because they have filled their minds with gloomy thoughts and allowed pessimism to take hold of them. Let me remind you again of Dale Carnegie's technique of killing gloom and substituting enthusiasm for it. He suggests that you sit down and imagine you have lost everything you hold precious: family, house, job and health. That is the gloomiest thought you can have, isn't it? then, suddenly, say to yourself: "But that's not so! I haven't lost any of them! I can be happy because I still have them!"

This is a good technique. And don't be merely happy about what you have; be enthusiastic. Think enthusiasm and you will be enthusiastic.

Your faith and your prayers—these have within them the power to fill your mind and heart with enthusiasm and joy. They have inspired men to better and finer and happier lives for centuries. Take advantage of them and you will never lose your enthusiasm and zest for living.

Coroner Probes Bus Driver's Death

YOUNGSTOWN, Nov. 4—Walter M. Algae, 54, of nearby Masury, a Municipal Bus Co. driver who was beaten and robbed by three Sharon Line youths last Dec. 28, died Friday in South Side hospital.

An autopsy showed the cause of death was a cerebral hemorrhage, and County Coroner David A. Belinky is investigating to see if the hemorrhage was traceable to the beating which was done with a paving brick.

Two of the three men who robbed Algae, Lucius Arnold and Charles Hill, are serving indeterminate terms in the Mansfield Reformatory. The third man, Janiero Groome, served a portion of a six-month sentence for assault and battery in the Mahoning county jail and was released for good conduct.

Friends Opposed To Subversive Bill

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4—The Friends (Quaker) committee on national legislation wants Quakers to work actively for the repeal of the subversive control bill.

E. Raymond Wilson, executive secretary of the committee, said in his annual report to the fifth annual Philadelphia general meeting of the Religious Society of Friends last night:

"We don't preserve our liberties by giving them up. These ideologies should not be driven underground but should be drawn into the open and hammered out on the anvil of public debates. We can depend on democracy to correct these abuses through democratic measures."

The committee also announced its opposition to universal military training.

ELECTION NOVEMBER 7, 1950 FOR STATE REPRESENTATIVE

DR. JOSEPH T.

WILLIAMSON

FORMER STATE SENATOR — EXPERIENCE
SHOULD COUNT!

State Representative (2) To Elect

DON'T FORGET TO MARK AN (X) IN FRONT OF MY NAME AS ABOVE INDICATED

I AM OPPOSED to Taxing "PAY-ROLLS," that is now being advocated by the State Tax Commissioner.

I AM OPPOSED to "BIG CITY" Domination in the Legislative Redistricting of the State by the next Legislature.

I AM IN FAVOR of a more equitable distribution of SALES TAX INCOME to local Taxing Units.

I AM IN FAVOR of Eliminating the 3% Sales Tax on "OLD-CAR TRADE-INS" on New Automobile Purchases — The 3% Sales Tax should be applied ONLY to the Difference in Cost of new car over the old trade-in.

I AM IN FAVOR of Better Strip-Mining Regulations.

WHAT HAS BECOME of the $150,000,000.00 State Surplus of four years ago? ECONOMY! "NOT DEAD, BUT SLEEPETH." It should be revived!

I AM DEFINITELY OPPOSED to Federal or State Control, Domination or Operation of any COMPETITIVE Business or Profession, but NON-COMPETITIVE enterprises must have honest and efficient Governmental Regulation, and Public Roads, Public Schools, and Public Health must have State and Federal FINANCIAL assistance for efficient operation, but Local Management should be maintained in all cases.

NO PROSPECTIVE MEMBER of the Ohio Legislature can honestly sign a Blank Check Endorsement—verbally or otherwise—of ANY proposed Bill until he knows the detailed contents of said Bill, regardless of political pressure.

ON MANY SUCH PRINCIPLES, I ask your support for a Second Term in the Ohio Legislature.

IS . . . FRANK LAUSCHE Telling the Truth

When He Claims An Efficient, Economical Administration

CONSIDER THESE FACTS . . .

- 1.—On December 31, 1948, Ohio's Treasury had in the Surplus Fund $107,640.807. (Incidentally, that surplus was built up during the years when Republican John W. Bricker was governor.)
- 2.—On June 30, 1950, that Surplus Fund had decreased to $68,769.035!
- 3.—By December 31, 1950, Ohio will be in DEBT THREE MILLION DOLLARS!
- 4.—Governor Frank Lausche has increased the number of state employees from 18,000 to 28,000 in less than TWO YEARS! (Were these jobs created to pay political debts?)

Is That Efficiency and Economy?

CONSIDER THESE FACTS . . .

- 1.—As Ohio's State Treasurer, Don Ebright has operated his department WITHIN a conservative annual budget, despite the example set by the Democratic administration.
- 2.—While Frank Lausche was adding 10,000 names to the state payroll, Don Ebright was handling an ever-increasing volume of business in the Treasurer's office with 105 employees instead of the 146 who were on the payroll when he took office.
- 3.—Don Ebright was one of those business-like Republicans responsible for the accumulation of the $107,640,807 surplus which Frank Lausche spent in less than two years!

These Are the Real Issues At Stake In the Ohio Campaign!

WE'VE STATED THEM CLEARLY . . . SIMPLY . . . AND CONCISELY!

DO NOT BE MISLED BY CAMOUFLAGE PUBLICITY CAMPAIGNS!

Take the much-publicized story of gambling in Ohio, for instance. Some people have been hoodwinked into believing that Lausche is against gambling and liquor because a few PLUSH SPOTS have been closed in the northern part of the state, strictly for publicity purposes.

In reality, newspaper accounts show that many other gambling spots are today running without interference in the middle and southern parts of Ohio.

The Taft Issue

The question in Ohio is whether or not the foremost defender of the free-enterprise system in the U.S. Senate can be defeated by the methods which the C.I.O.-P.A.C. and its allies, including the captive leaders of the Democratic party are using against him. If so, other political figures would be less likely to risk their necks by asserting themselves.

The methods have been in view throughout the Ohio senatorial campaign this year and in many of the local campaigns in which labor politicians have taken an interest.

The union politicians have asked for popular judgment of these methods even more than they have asked for popular judgment on the candidates they are backing.

Senator Taft has been a prime target for union politicians for many years, always for the same reason.

He has had the courage to put his personal integrity first in all public issues. He has discussed the issues the way he saw them. He has refused to knuckle under to any pressure bloc.

The irony of his political attitude is that it has offended just about as many Ohioans who are going to vote for Mr. Taft's reelection as it has offended those who are going to vote for his opponent. But his friends respect him for doing his own thinking. They want that kind of a senator to represent Ohio.

The C.I.O.-P.A.C. has no tolerance for independent judgment. It demands that its legislative spokesmen go down the party line from A to Z. One misstep and they are blacklisted.

If Joseph T. Ferguson dreams that he could use his own judgment if elected to the senate under that auspices he has accepted, he is kidding himself. That is not the way his sponsors play the game.

It makes no difference to them that Senator Taft on one occasion kept an angry and impetuous chief executive from drafting railroad workers into the army for going on strike. When he fought for a rule of equity in labor-management relations and helped to enact the Taft-Hartley Act, he was put on their blacklist forever.

Every time he makes an honest exposition of his reasons for being opposed to "raw-deal socialism" he doubles the fury of the people who know how they would run the United States if they could get all the power into their own hands.

In Britain, where the same kind of people finally did get all the power, Mr. Churchill has the same blistering effect on socialists. The difference is that in Britain they have proved what a mess they will make. In the United States they are still short of the goal.

Ohio has a great opportunity to keep them short of the goal. If Senator Taft is re-elected Tuesday, the "raw-deal" coalition pushing for socialism will sustain a setback of major proportions.

Senator Taft believes there is a higher American destiny than to follow Britain up the blind alley of poverty-sharing.

He has done everything in his considerable power to state his propositions so clearly that no one can fail to know what he is talking about.

If he were to lose next Tuesday, there would be no occasion to wonder, as there was after the presidential election of 1948, what would have happened if the issue had been joined squarely, not obliquely.

His opposition has been clear in its exposition, too, though in a different sense. It has revealed what kind of tactics it would rely on in election contests. It has flooded a sovereign state with carpet-baggers who neither know nor care about Ohio interests.

It has maliciously misrepresented the voting record of Senator Taft with a series of little, medium and big lies which can be chased down and put out of circulation only at the expense of confusing the electorate.

It has thrown its support behind a man with no visible qualification to serve in the U.S. senate, after having been rebuffed by more conscientious men unwilling to act as its stalking horses in an attack on the ablest member of that important body.

It has used large sums of money collected from union members to carry on a partisan political project in violation of the spirit of the federal corrupt practices act.

The question on the ballot next Tuesday is whether or not a majority of Ohioans will uphold legislative integrity—reserving their right to disagree with Senator Taft but preserving his right to state and vote his convictions.

In every other state of the union and in many parts of the world the outcome of Ohio's senatorial election will be accepted as a sign of what American voters will do about pressure-bloc socialism vs. free enterprise when the issue is presented to them squarely.

Salem Voters To Mark 3 Ballots On Tuesday

SALEM voters will mark three ballots in Tuesday's general election. When they visit the polling places in their respective precincts Tuesday they will be handed the new Office-Type ballot which contains the names of candidates from governor on down to county auditor; the Judicial ballot listing the non-partisan judgeship offices, and the Special Issues ballot.

Only one special issue is listed here, it being the half-mill levy to insure the maintenance of current expenses, including wages of municipal employees. It is up for renewal and is not a new tax.

Sample ballots are shown on this page, particularly to help the reader become acquainted with the new office-type ballot. It is the one to the immediate right of this column—with the governor contests heading the ticket.

Sometimes referred to as the "Massachusetts ballot," which is being used for the first time in Ohio, it is different but it is not complicated. It abolishes the old style "straight-ticket" voting with a single X. With the new ballot you simply mark an X in the square at the left of the name of each candidate for whom you wish to vote.

Party designation is indicated immediately under the name of each candidate.

Follow the ballot instructions. Where it says "vote for not more than one" do just that. Otherwise your vote won't count.

There has been no change in the separate judicial ballot where party designations are not given.

Steel Negotiations

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—THE ADMINISTRATION, it became known today, indicated recently it would prefer that the steel companies and the steelworkers' union should not reach an agreement in current negotiations before election day.

The plan had been to announce a simultaneous increase of wages and prices the moment an agreement was reached between the CIO and the management of some of the steel companies.

But apparently the administration felt that this might stimulate throughout the country an intense demand for immediate application of wage and price controls—and, of course, such a development could raise campaign issues that would be embarrassing all around.

So far as is known, the steel industry did not agree to the postponement, though its spokesmen were well aware of the administration's wish. So the objective was accomplished another way. President Truman and CIO Chief Philip Murray conferred not long ago. It became apparent shortly after this conference that Mr. Murray was not in as much of a hurry to get the wage increases as he had been before. The negotiations suddenly slowed down, and now it is unlikely that any agreement could be reached before election, no matter how hard the bargaining representatives worked at it.

IT IS EASY enough to stall negotiations of such a complex character as are involved in the steel industry. The CIO leaders were able to comply with the wishes of the administration without difficulty. Just what arguments were used to persuade Mr. Murray to hold off can only be conjectured, though it is rather surprising that the matter has been enveloped in such secrecy. Usually one side or the other insists on an early end to protracted negotiations or there is a threat of more drastic action by the union. Evidently the conversations are proceeding leisurely.

When the steelworkers' contract is announced, it will impress the country with the seriousness of the latest move in the inflation spiral. It will probably result in criticism of both the union and the steel companies, and the demand for controls will be pressed sharply on Washington.

This, however, is only one of the problems facing the steel industry. The latest phase of governmental intervention comes in a speech by W. Stuart Symington, chairman of the National Security Resources Board. In an obvious reference to the steel industry, he said:

"In discussing this problem recently with the leaders of a great corporation which produces a basic material, they were frankly hesitant about expansion in their industry, because of their fear of carrying excessive capacity in the depression they considered inevitable.

"These industrialists also said they had a report which proved the United States could only absorb 42 million automobiles, that 37 million were already in use, and that therefore the production of cars should be curtailed.

"IS IT RIGHT in any system of free enterprise, however, for the supplier to dictate to the customer when and what he can buy? Also it would seem that the American people, not any industry, or any group of industries, should decide how many automobiles the nation can afford on the highways."

The foregoing constitutes a paradox. On the one hand, private business must gauge accurately future demand or overbuild and run the risk of constructing plants which soon become idle and costly to maintain when not in operation. On the other hand, if the defense needs require more plants now, then it becomes a question of whether the government will supply the extra plants or finance them for industry—a problem that arose during World War II.

What seems to be overlooked, however, is that if wage scales go to high levels and building costs skyrocket, new companies will not go into the steel business to furnish more competition. Similarly, the existent companies will not be able to operate new plants for the government or for themselves except at higher and higher costs. It's easy to claim about scarce facilities in wartime but someone has to pay for idle facilities in peacetime. Maybe there will be a Brannan Plan for that, too, some day.

For Every Occasion

By TRUMAN TWILL

WHEN the debris from Halloween was cleared away at the Twillery, a few useful items and one worthwhile idea were salvaged.

The items were half a dozen of those rubber masks in vogue for Halloween masquerading these days. The idea is to purchase a dozen more.

Like many a citizen with a face he didn't ask for and would like to exchange, your correspondent is everlastingly having to explain that he is feeling fine when he looks terrible; that he is really in the dumps though his face looks happy; that he is not sleepy though he looks sleepy and so on. And of course there is the day-in-and-day-out handicap of all ways looking homely though the inner man feels pretty handsome sometimes.

A rubber mask for every occasion is the answer. Not just any old rubber mask but special ones to fill the bill. Such as a mask with a blank look and a hearing aid attached to slip on for the purpose of discouraging long-winded bores.

Also a mask with a built-in expression of ferocity to wear when ferocious feelings are called for—to cover up the quivering lips and the trembling chin which afflict many of us when we get sore.

There would be a peaceful mask for occasions when gadflies were buzzing about and hoping to see some flash of anger as the result of their stings.

And a laughing mask to convince the party of the second part that the party of the first part was a hail fellow well met even though he was brooding about his indigestion.

And the manly-beauty mask to wear on occasions when others would feel more comfortable if the face behind the mask were not so homely as they know it is. There would be no deception about the masks. They would be obvious. But that wouldn't matter.

Surface appearances, even though contrived artificially, usually sound the key for human relationships. Many are blessed with the equivalent of rubber faces at birth. They can make over their faces on command. They can grin when they feel like crying. They can look fresh as daisies when they are as wilted as five-year-old girdles. They can look animated when their feet hurt, stern when they feel forgiving, sympathetic when they are stifling an impulse to commit murder. They don't need rubber masks.

The rest of us do. If Sourpuss can be turned into Laughing Boy with no more trouble than it takes to put on a pair of glasses, why continue to be Sourpuss?

Engineers say that the average television receiver requires 600 parts.

Dogs can see only black and white, no colors.

Japan's location on the rim of a sharp drop miles into the sea and its mountainous structure make it subject to earthquakes.

The Swiss Stand Ready

BERNE, SWITZERLAND

FEW people realize it, but the biggest "army" in Western Europe today belongs to the Swiss. It is not the strongest army, perhaps, in terms of tanks and planes. But it has 500,000 trained men and it is a factor to be reckoned with in any appraisal of the European military situation.

The Swiss have had compulsory military service for years. Not all their army is in uniform or on duty at all times. But after two years of active training and duty as a young man, every able-bodied Swiss is expected to do (and he does) his three weeks of active training every year.

What's more, every Swiss male keeps his uniform, pack and army rifle at his home. If a general mobilization call went out by radio, every man would drop whatever he was doing and go to his assigned post. He would be there from within one to six hours after the emergency call, unless he was away from home on business.

Switzerland's military policy has always been armed neutrality. Armed strength has enabled Switzerland to stay out of the last two world wars. It prevented first the Kaiser, then Hitler, from trying to seize Switzerland.

But no Swiss that this correspondent talked to on a quick trip across the little republic thought that Switzerland would be able to stay out of the next war.

General acceptance of this belief has resulted in a complete change of plans. This was revealed first by the Swiss government's official suggestion of last spring, that all Swiss families should lay in a reserve supply of food.

Being thrifty, all Swiss are natural hoarders. Like squirrels, all families have a supply of food in the pantry, hay in the barns and money in the bank. But this time, the Swiss government may have had advance information that a Soviet push against western Germany was a real possibility.

WHEN THE Soviet offensive broke instead in Korea, two months later, many Swiss are believed to have sighed with relief and begun to eat up some of their stockpiles.

The recent announcement by the Swiss minister of defense, calling for near-doubling of the Swiss military budget, has changed the picture again. The Swiss now see that they must have more planes, tanks and heavier weapons to repel armored attacks.

Fighting a strictly mountain warfare however, would mean that Switzerland would have to surrender her rich industrial areas. So now the Swiss thinking seems to be that if attacked from the north or east—from the direction of Germany or Austria—the Swiss would try to hold their whole country.

What this new turn of events may have done is to give Switzerland an entirely new importance in the military defense of western Europe. It can no longer be counted on as a neutral.

ROK Progress

By HAL BOYLE

Koreans Show Intelligence

DOLLARS alone cannot build an army. It took more than American money to rebuild the Republic of Korea (ROK) army, shattered four months ago when the Reds crossed Parallel 38 to open this Civil war.

At that time there was a tendency in military circles to write off the South Korean army and its soldiers as undependable. But the ROK army stubbornly recreated itself into a real fighting force. And its tough little weary foot soldiers were first to reach the Manchurian border.

The South Korean government got plenty of American economic aid in accomplishing this battlefield miracle. But Lt. Col. William F. Runge, Sanford, Fla., says the world has failed to realize just how much the patriotic South Koreans did to help themselves.

"These people are just beginning to find they can do great things," he said. "They have been led around and kicked around for too long like children."

"With some leadership and some technical advice and training, the Koreans can quickly show great progress and results in almost any field of endeavor."

RUNGE HAS had an inside view of what the ROK army has accomplished. He has been Korean military advisory group (KMA G) officer here 16 months. Recently he was officially commended by the ROK department of national defense for his work as senior American military advisor to the ROK headquarters.

Each day he and Lt. Col. Yun Soo-Hyun, the ROK quartermaster, thresh out the problems of supplying, feeding and equipping the far reaching and mushrooming South Korean army. They work at adjoining desks and have developed a feeling of mutual respect and personal liking.

"Colonel Yun has one of the quickest minds I have ever met," said Runge.

When war started, he observed, the ROK quartermaster corps "was manufacturing 85 per cent of quartermaster supplies used by the Korean army." He added:

"But the withdrawal was so violent and rapid the men could bring back only themselves and their hand weapons. Great stores of winter clothing were lost."

However, rear area troops went up the road of retreat.

THEY BRAVED small arms fire to salvage nearly 500,000 bags of rice, barley and wheat and many carloads of sugar, tobacco, cotton, wool and other items that would have been of great value to the enemy if captured.

Driven within a few weeks into a beachhead only one-seventh of the area of South Korea, the ROK managed to recruit, feed and train more than 1,000 new troops a day.

"The American army supplied them with boots, ponchos, field jackets, helmets and canteens," Runge said.

"But in the first two months of the war, the ROK quartermaster corps made over 200,000 fatigue caps and 350,000 pairs of socks."

"All of this was made in only two cities—Taegu and Pusan."

The ROKs now are busily completing manufacture of new cotton-quilted winter uniforms for the troops.

But the country isn't advanced enough industrially to solve the greatest shortage—transportation vehicles. Runge said:

"They have taken every available civilian vehicle and are buying all the trucks from Japan they can get—but it still isn't enough."

County Extension Council's Annual Party Here A Success

THE THIRD ANNUAL CHRISTMAS-AT-HOME party Friday afternoon and evening in the Memorial building was a success. A wide variety of hand-made gift suggestions, both personal and for the home, were in the 600 exhibits. There were 200 more than last year.

An attendance record was set with more than 800 women from Columbiana and nearby counties interested in the party.

The party is a project of the Columbiana County Home Extension Council which cooperates with Ohio university and the United States Department of Agriculture.

Home extension activities are planned to promote better homes, better citizens and better communities.

Portraying the spiritual meaning of the Christmas festival, there was a stage scene of "The Little Town of Bethlehem." On either side of the picture were trimmed Christmas trees. Above it was a "bright star."

Recorded carols by the Home-makers chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Carl Bowman of Lisbon, were played during the party.

Mrs. Evelyn Boiegrain of North Georgetown exhibited gift wrappings and demonstrated making yule corsages. She suggested cutting the floral designs out of last year's greeting cards and using them for "stickers" in wrapping this year's gifts. Wallpaper was used effectively in some of her wrappings.

Many clever Christmas decorations and novel favors were shown. One of the most unique was a white feather table "tree." The feathers were machine stitched to a base of asbestos which was placed over a lamp containing a blue bulb. Another pretty table tree was made of graduating white crinoline stars showered with miniature stars in the holiday colors.

The crochet and embroidery work on centerpieces, bed linen, handkerchiefs, etc., was exquisite. Quilts, afghans and rugs were lovely too.

There were hand-made dolls and stuffed animals to make the children happy and also many small gifts that could be made by children.

The Home council advises you to "be a wise Santa Claus" and to consider these questions: Is this gift practical enough to be used? Does it justify the time and cost? Is it simple in design, not too difficult to make well? Is the workmanship good? Is it beautiful? Do the colors harmonize and can the materials be obtained readily? Will the person receiving it enjoy it?

As to the measure of a toy's value the Home council asks eight questions as follows:

What can the child do with it? Is it safe and sanitary? Does it encourage investigation? Does it encourage imagination? Does it encourage construction? Does it encourage playing with others? Is it durable? Is it in good taste, well made, attractive?

The attractive party programs had a Santa Claus cover and featured a star and child's Christmas sock patterns.

Mrs. C. C. Waefler of East Rochester was general chairman for the party, while Mrs. Donald Hill of Lisbon was tea chairman. Mrs. Hill was assisted by Mrs. Harry Smith of Lisbon; Mrs. Clifford Israel of Alliance; Mrs. Byron Anglemeyer of Elkton; Mrs. C. D. McConner and Mrs. Richard Stamp of Salem; Mrs. Kenneth Bell of Fairfield and Mrs. Waefler of East Rochester.

Christians Can Combat Evils Of World, Church Women Told

"THERE IS NOTHING WE CAN DO for the boys who had to fight in World Wars I and II but there is so much that can be done to prevent another war" was the pertinent conclusion Mrs. Warren D. Troutman drew Friday in her World Community day talk.

More than 70 members of the Salem District Council of Church Women attended the World Community Day observance in Holy Trinity Lutheran church.

Mrs. Troutman of Cleveland Heights used "Old and New Armor" for her theme. She told her audience that Christians must gird themselves with the "armor of God" to fight the evils of the world. Working through the United Council is one field of endeavor she stressed.

She is a member of the Christian World Relations Department of the Ohio Council of Church Women and has attended sessions of the United Nations with Miss Mabel Head, the official representative of the United Council of Church Women. Besides discussion of the U. N., she told of the operation of the world food bank.

Mrs. Harold A. Zealley presided at the meeting. "Love Thy Neighbor" was the inspiring and appropriate worship theme used by Mrs. Gertrude Stewart. Assisting in this service was Miss Joanne Copacia who sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Ruth Hoch, church organizer, was the accompanist for the program.

All women present at the meeting brought gifts of clothing for aged men and women and these were prepared for overseas shipment in an effective ceremony.

Mrs. Mary Oana and Mrs. Earl Sulea, who were dressed in the costumes of their native lands, gathered the gifts which they presented to Mrs. Arda Pridon who was dressed to represent an aged person. The offering of the afternoon also will go to help this project.

At the executive meeting of key church women prior to the observance announcement was made of a work shop Nov. 30 in the Emmanuel Lutheran church. The workshop will start at 1, and at 2 a program will be highlighted by a talk by a guest speaker from the Ohio Council of Church Women.

The Salem District Council will convene the fourth Thursday of each month from now on and the nominating committee will present a slate of officers at the first meeting in the new year. The committee includes Mrs. J. C. Pottorf (Presbyterian) Mrs. James Hinkle (Holy Trinity) and Mrs. Charles Weaver (Nazarene).

Salem women may still be registered in the ecumenical (world church) program. More than 303 women are signed up already in Salem as "card-carrying Christians." Registrations may be secured through the key women of each church.

New Waterford Has Bond Issue

$50,000 Needed To Complete School

NEW WATERFORD, Nov. 4—Completion of the new addition to New Waterford High school depends on passage of a $20,000 bond issue at Tuesday's general election here Tuesday.

The money will supplement the $50,000 in bonds approved in 1948. Rising costs of labor and material drained heavily on those funds and, as a result, the board of education found it necessary to seek the additional revenue to insure completion and equipping of the building.

The building now under construction will contain five classrooms, one team room with showers, lavatory and coach's office, and a girls' restroom.

This will alleviate the present overcrowded condition that now exists in the school. The present enrollment in the school is 400, Supt. M. W. Faloon reports.

The general contractor is Adolph Johnson and Son, Youngstown.

Browns In Good Shape For Card Tilt

Upsets Feature Friday Grid Tilts

A few startling upsets highlighted the Friday football activity among Ohio high schools. The most surprising setback of a favorite was the 13-6 win by Toledo Libbey over Hamilton, the No. 2 team in the state.

Undeclared but once-tied Sandusky took its first loss at the hands of Findlay, 7-0. Findlay was only recently bumped from the unbeaten ranks itself.

Stuebenville's Big Red had a close 13-6 call over Martins Ferry, a team East Liverpool butchered last week.

Dick Barrett's once-beaten Youngstown East team was nosed out 18-14 by Campbell Memorial Friday after clinching the Youngstown city championship. Rain and accompanying wet fields contributed heavily to the reversals of form.

Massillon's mighty powerhouse steam-rolled over Toledo Waite 39-0, scoring 33 points in the first half and using substitutes the rest of the way. The Tiger fullback, Bob Howe, carried the ball three times in the game and gained 169 yards. He got away on TD scampers of 67 and 84 yards.

Leetonia Bears Thump Sebring 20-0

Rebounding from a 26-13 loss last week to the highly touted Lisbon Blue Devils, the Leetonia Bears collected Victory No. 4 Friday night, grinding out a 20-0 lopsided win over the Sebring Trojans on the Bears' rain-drenched, mud spattered field.

Unrelenting rains, which fell throughout the contest, failed to halt the Leetonia attack.

Halfback Joe Guido, who has sparked the Bears all season, scored two of the three Leetonia touchdowns, in addition to booting two out of a trio of placement attempts.

He tallied his first TD in the opening quarter in a 26-yard wade through the quagmire around end. His second six pointer came in the second period when he smashed up the middle for four yards, putting Leetonia out in front at halftime 13-0.

After being held scoreless in the third stanza, the Bears got another six points in the final cant when Dick Carey, who substituted in the halfback spot after Guido was injured in the second quarter, churned end for 20 yards. Guido, used sparingly in the last half by Coach Bob Gibson, kicked the final extra point.

The Bears have lost three games.

Scoring by quarters

Snead Romps Off With Tourney Title

PINEHURST, N. C., Nov. 4.—(AP)—He didn't win the U. S. Open or the PGA championship this year but Sammy Snead grabbed about everything else of importance in sight and you'd have a hard time convincing folks hereabouts that he isn't the greatest golfer in the business today.

Sammy breezed through with a two-under par 70 that looked easy yesterday in the final round of the North and South open to give himself a winning 275, 13 under par for the 6,952-yard Country Club course and four strokes ahead of the field.

He became the first repeat winner since Bobby Cruickshank, the venerable Virginian, won in 1926-7.

Sam has won the tournament three times and finished second three more times since 1941—a remarkable achievement in a major event on a championship course.

Sam now has won $35,258 in major competition this season—the second straight in which he has led the money winner. He picked up $1,500 of the $7,500 jackpot yesterday. For four days his scores were 68-71-66-70.

Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C., who led the first two days, held on for second money of $1,000 with a par 72 finish to post a total of 279 and finish two shots ahead of the No. 3 man, Claude Harmon of Marmaroneck, N. Y., whose 70 finish gave him 281 and $750.

Argentina Defeats U. S. Cage Delegate

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 4.—(AP)—The celebrating was still going on here today following Argentina's 64-50 victory over the United States for the world amateur basketball championship.

The two favored squads clashed last night before a jammed throng of 25,000, largest ever to pack Luna Park stadium. Three games closed out the six-team, round robin final series. In the other two contests, Egypt edged Chile, 43-40, and Brazil routed France, 59-27.

Downtown Buenos Aires was quite a sight through the night as yelling, exuberant fans paraded in what was believed to be the greatest celebration ever staged here.

Personal fouls—38 of them—spelled defeat for America, which was represented by the Denver Chevrolts. Their rivals chalked up 32 good free throws and 16 field goals, compared to the Colorado squad's 14 free tosses and 18 field goals.

The title will stay with Argentina for at least four years. The next world championship tournament is scheduled for 1954 at Sao Paulo, Brazil.

Paddock Is Survivor

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Harold Paddock of Akron was one of only four U. S. golfers who survived the second and third elimination rounds in Mexico's 25th annual golf tournament yesterday.

He eliminated Frank Searer, Mexico, 3 and 2, and Syl Polak, also of Mexico, one up. Other U. S. survivors were Jack E. Culp, Jr., Chicago; Joe Conrad, San Antonio, Tex., and Bob Riegel, also of San Antonio.

They are playing in the semifinals today. The finals will be Sunday at the Mexico City Country Club.

Won't Get To Tangle With Big Pat Harder

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Those big "bullies," the Chicago Cardinals, have an interesting little contest coming up tomorrow with the Cleveland Browns.

The Cards, you know, got Mickey McBride so sore he threatened to pull his Browns out of the National Football League if the rough stuff didn't cease.

In particular, McBride had end Len Ford in mind. He and Coach Paul Brown say Pat Harder, Cardinal fullback, smashed Ford's face with his elbow in the game at Cleveland, which the Browns won, 34 to 24.

Ford, of course, won't play today. Oddly, Harder probably won't either. He was smacked hard in the ribs in a game with the New York Giants last Sunday. Commissioner Bert Bell says Harder is no dirty player and never has been thrown out of a game.

Coach Brown seems to think his team is really loaded for this game. He is whistling cheerily about Rex Bumgardner, the offensive left halfback who couldn't make the last two games because of injuries.

He's also sure Otto Graham will be back at quarterback, even though he broke his nose in a game with the Pittsburgh Steelers last Sunday. In fact, the usually cautious Brown says they're in their best condition for any game this year.

Just what Brown has in mind in the way of offensive tactics is a puzzle. Last Sunday he crossed everybody up by using almost exclusive running plays instead of the old familiar "pass and trap" stuff.

This worked fine, but Brown certainly isn't going to advertise whether he'll go along with that plan for a while.

One Cardinal the Browns didn't have to play last time probably will be in tomorrow's lineup: Mal Kutner, a brilliant offensive end and defensive halfback.

The Browns are, without notice, getting especially hot at pass defense. The league's official figures are lacking but the Browns figure they have allowed only 35 per cent of attempted passes to succeed.

That should put them near the top and prove troublesome to the dangerous Chicago passer, Jim Hardy.

DAILY DOZEN By Bob Dixon

• We understand Salem High's basketball season will officially begin on Monday afternoon, Nov. 13—the same day it would have started had football season not been shortened.

• The powers that be at SHS are taking no chances on more polio cropping up. Each boy trying out for the team will be given a careful physical examination before he is permitted to play.

• Salem would have played its last grid tilt on Nov. 10 against Lisbon. It had been the custom here to allow the football players a week's rest before starting basketball. Other boys on the squad began workouts on the Monday following the last game, however.

• Coach Johnny Cabas, anxious to get started with his cagers, will have three weeks to prepare for his first game. The Quakers meet Lisbon at Lisbon on Tuesday, Dec. 5 in the season's opener.

• There is a chance, however, that the Red and Black will get in some actual court competition before that time. A cage preview program is being arranged by Dover High school for Dec. 1 and we hear Salem is considering taking part in it.

• The other three schools involved in the program are Dover, Massillon and Akron South—all tough teams as a rule. The four teams will play a round robin schedule in the preview—each playing the other three for one quarter.

• That will make six six-minute periods of play, being preceded by a rules interpretation period. It sounds interesting.

• The Salem team, if it takes part, will gain some valuable game experience, give Cabas a line on players he hasn't seen in action, and still not threaten to damage the Quakers' season record.

• John's tallest player, big Jim Callahan won't be playing any basketball until December, but he has indicated he'll attend each practice session until he is allowed to play.

• There are nine Salem lettermen Cabas will want to look over before he can make any definite plans for the season. Also, the first practices will be thrown open to any players in the school, who care to try out for the squad. They'll have to be weeded out.

• The Salem coach has some other plans in mind for local

70,000 To Watch Penn-Army Tussle

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—(AP)—The nation's No. 2 college football power—unbeaten, untied Army—tackles upset-conscious Pennsylvania today in the east's top gridiron spectacle. A Franklin field crowd of 70,000 is expected.

The rival coaches both are hopeful of victory—each predicting a "squeaky triumph" by one point or one touchdown.

Army's Black Knights of the Hudson haven't lost in their last 25 games and the experts figure the Cadets will continue the streak and beat the Quakers—by 13 points at least.

Penn has won four of five games, surprising even their most ardent fans. The one loss was a 14-7 decision to California. The Quakers licked Dartmouth, Virginia, Navy and Columbia.

Meantime Army has taken Penn State, Columbia, Harvard, Colgate and Michigan into camp. The opposition totally has scored two touchdowns and the critics say the Cadets have a "soft" schedule.

Penn's biggest offensive weapon is Capt. Francis (Red) Bagnell, who has practically turned out to be a one-man team.

Bagnell has thrown 87 passes in Penn's five games and not one was intercepted. So good has been his marksmanship that in the Dartmouth contest he completed 14 straight without a miss.

In only one of its 11 games in 1949 did the College of the Pacific football team score less than five touchdowns.

A total of 368 games will be played this winter by the 11 teams in the National Basketball Association.

In 1944, Vern Stephens won the American League runs batted in title with 109, lowest total ever to win.

INDUSTRIAL DIAMONDS $5.3 MILLION
SISAL (HARD FIBER CORDAGE) $7.1 MILLION
BAUXITE (ALUMINUM ORE) $4.5 MILLION

MARSHALL PLAN AIDS STOCKPILE — With no additional outlay of American taxpayers' dollars, the Economic Cooperation Administration (ECA) has purchased $64 million worth of strategic materials since the Marshall Plan began in 1948. In addition to the bigger purchases (shown on new chart), the ECA has stockpiled varying amounts of palm oil, graphite, platinum, lead, sperm oil, quinidine, coryllite and fluor spar—the latter two items are used in making aluminum. Officials say the scarce materials—bought with foreign currencies available to the U. S. under the Marshall Plan—are cheaper than if paid for with American dollars.

U.S. Silent On Chinese Moves

Officials Waiting To See If Danger Grows

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(AP)—General Douglas MacArthur may have been advised from Washington to avoid a showdown over Chinese intervention in North Korea until the Communists' intentions become clearer.

While official concern is mounting over the reported Chinese reinforcement of the North Koreans, the administration inclination is to wait for the dangerous situation to develop further before any open challenge to the Peiping regime.

Responsible authorities indicated today that this waiting attitude has been made plain in exchanges of view with MacArthur's headquarters, and has been reflected in the cautious course United Nations forces have followed since the first signs of intervention.

Army reports from Korea have mentioned small Chinese units in action with North Koreans, but MacArthur's headquarters declined to estimate their total number. Officials here have been even more close mouthed. An AP dispatch from the battlefield today said flatly that Chinese Communists had cut off two U.S. Marine battalions in northeast Korea.

What the State Department and Pentagon want to pin down unmistakably is whether (1) the Chinese Communists have embarked on large scale intervention at the risk of setting off a new world war, or (2) engaged in a Soviet-style adventure in power politics which could be short lived or turn into protracted border fighting.

Its officers, through their years of experience and contact with every line of business, can be of invaluable assistance to you.

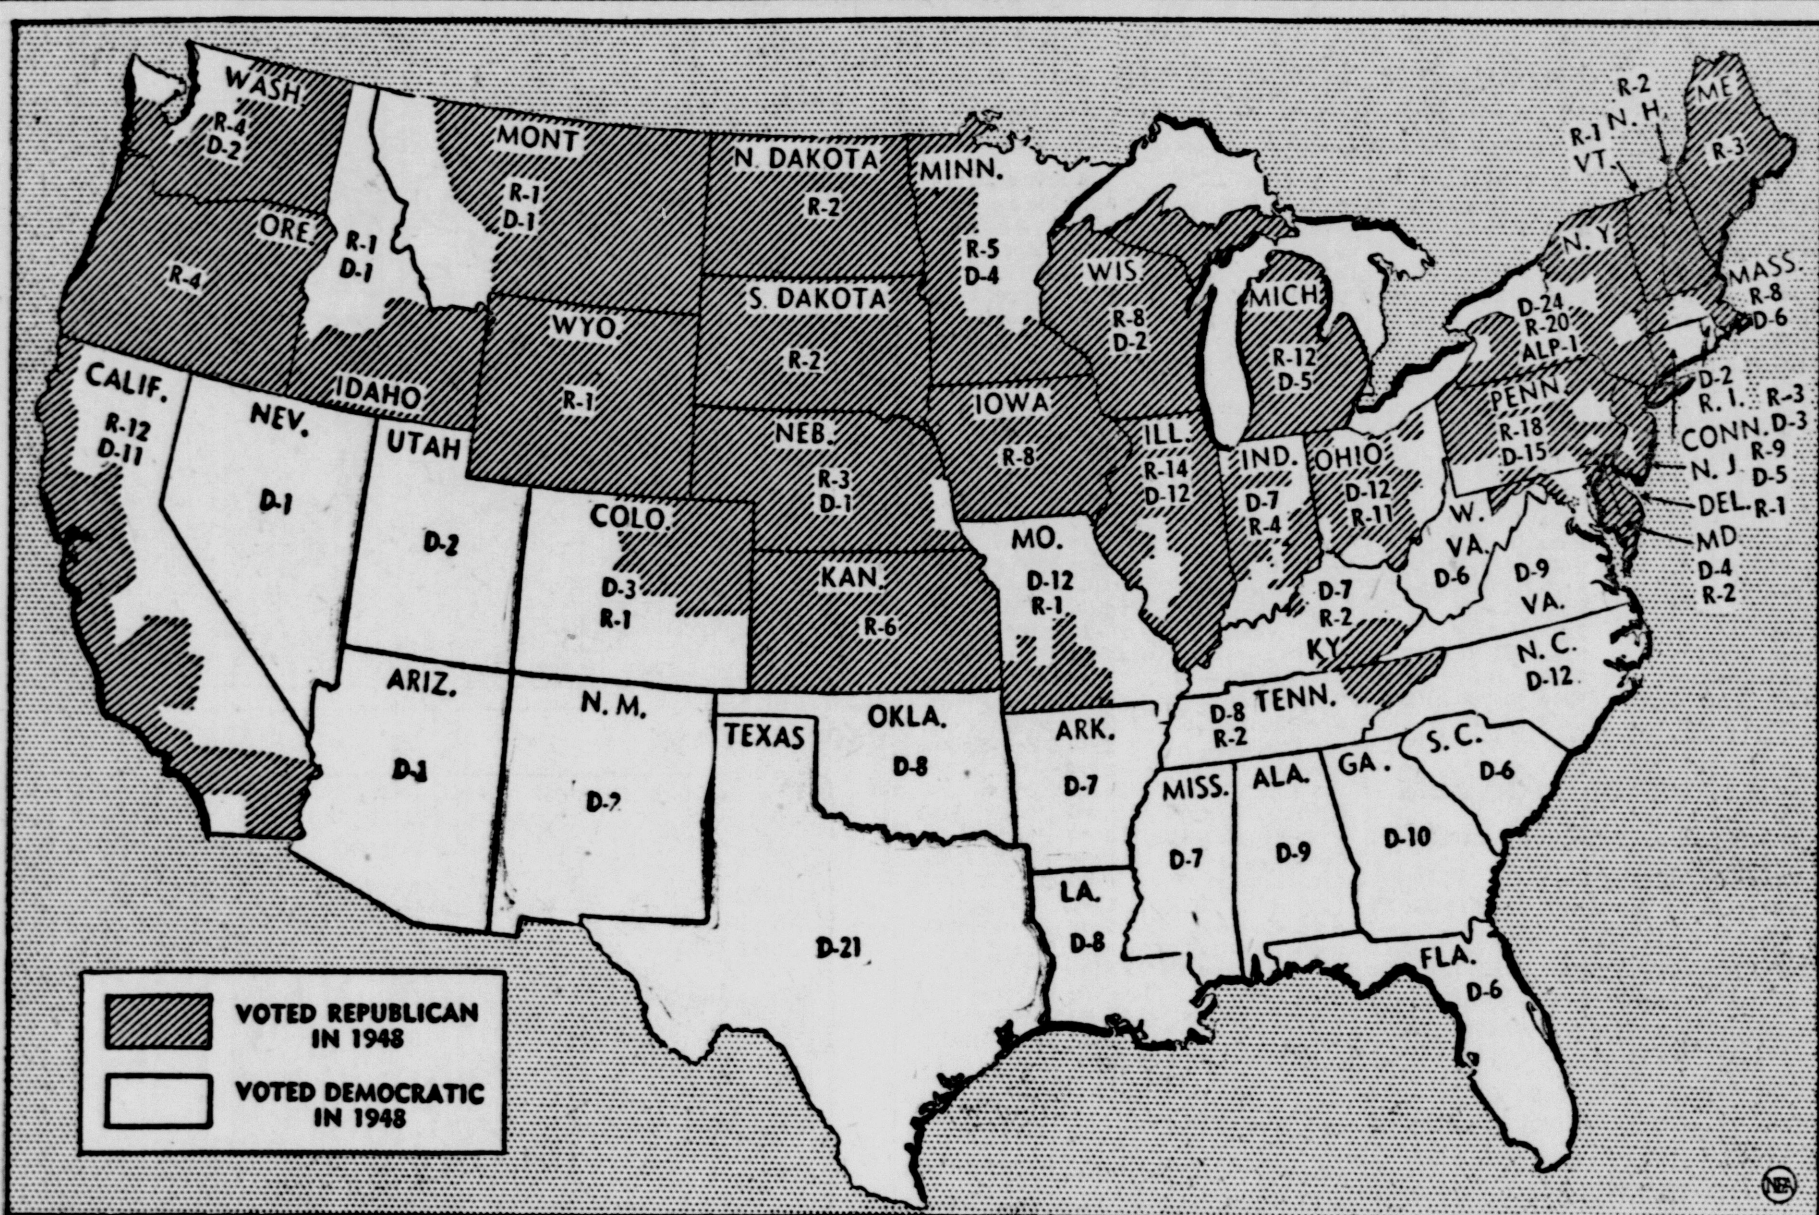

The First National has had the privilege of helping many folks on their way to success. Some of our very best accounts today came to us when their owners had little more than a good idea and limited business experience.

We invite you to join the growing number of people who express their opinion of a helpful banking service by saying . . . .

THIS IS THE PICTURE NOW—Newschart above shows areas where Republicans and Democrats won seats in the House of Representatives in 1948. On election eve, Dems held 261 seats, Republicans held 172. Political dopesters say Republicans stand to gain up to 30 seats in "see-saw" districts, which would make the map look a little darker. However, appearances can be deceiving: Michigan, for instance, looks to be solid GOP at first glance. But Michigan sent five Democratic congressmen to Washington in '48; all from the relatively small but crowded Detroit area.

Obituary

Crayton V. Calvin

COLUMBIANA, Nov. 4.—Crayton V. Calvin, 80, of Rochester, Pa., died of a stroke at 6:40 a. m. Friday in the Rochester General hospital following a one-day illness.

The son of Samuel and Elizabeth Calvin, he was a room clerk in the Lincoln hotel, Rochester. He had been living there about 20 years.

A former resident of Columbiana, Mr. Calvin was associated in the lumber business there. He was past master of the Allen lodge, F. and A. M., of Columbiana and a member of the Methodist church.

Mr. Calvin is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Herman Crawford of Los Gatos, Calif., and two grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 Monday at the Fry Funeral home, with Rev. A. R. Brown officiating. Burial will be in the Columbiana cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday evening.

A technical name for color television is "trichromatic," meaning three-colored.

Absentee Ballots Set New Records

AKRON, Nov. 4.—This and several other northern Ohio counties have set new records in the volume of absentee voting.

Summit county's total was 2,435, about 800 above the 1948 presidential year and 200 above 1944, the previous high. Soldiers voting totaled 222.

In Stark county (Canton) there were 1,551 absentee ballots cast, including 226 from servicemen. The previous record was 1,243 in 1948.

Wayne county (Wooster) set a new figure at 487, an increase of four over the figure two years ago.

Other heavy voting: Lake county (Painesville) 385, Seneca county (Tiffin) 237, up 21 over two years ago.

Columbiana county (East Liverpool) 737, up 212 over two years ago.

County Home Gets Two TV Sets; Feud Ends

HAMILTON, Nov. 4.—The television feud between the men and the women at the Butler county home is over.

It all started because the men and the women couldn't agree over the programs to be seen on the one set at the home—the men wanted "rasslin," football and the like. The women wanted non-sports programs.

The city firemen carried on a solicitation program for funds and yesterday a second television set was installed at the home.

Now the men can have their football games and the ladies can have their variety shows.

Eisenhower's Son Hurt In Auto Mishap

MORRISTOWN, N. J., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Capt. John Eisenhower, son of General Dwight D. Eisenhower, was injured with two others today in an auto accident enroute to the Army-Penn football game at Philadelphia.

Eisenhower and Capt. Charles Sampson, stationed at the U. S. military academy at West Point, and a woman identified by police as Julia Gardner of Newark were admitted to the Morristown Memorial hospital.

Hospital spokesman said Eisenhower and Sampson were being held for observation and that their injuries were not serious. The extent of the woman's injuries was not determined.

Capt. Eisenhower was graduated from West Point in 1944.

KENT RETIRES BONDS

KENT, Nov. 4.—The last $6,000 payment on a 60,000 bond issue for Kent's water works was paid yesterday. The bonds were issued in 1939.

RETREAT IN WEST—Threatened by a cut-off drive, the U. S. 24th Division spearhead which had driven to within 14 miles of the Yalu River frontier in the west retreated 50 miles to the vicinity of Chongju. Held by Communists in an iron ring below Unsan (1) were 500 Yanks. New Allied defense line (jagged symbol) was set up on Chongchun River. At Sudong (2), in the northeast, U. S. Marines were stopped trying to advance on Chosin Reservoir. Unconfirmed reports said Chinese Reds might push through central mountains and strike (inverted T-shaped broken arrow) toward either coast. Above Pungsan (3), U. S. 7th Division fanned out but reported enemy dispersed.

MEET MISS SMITH—Constance Smith, new screen queen, is opposing Hollywood bigwigs who want to change her name. Battling for the honor of 1,500,000 Smiths, Miss Smith intends to remain Miss Smith.

Widow Of Attacker On Hunger Strike

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—(AP)—The slim, defiant widow of President Truman's slain attacker was on a hunger strike today in a federal jail cell.

The woman, 21-year-old Carmen Dolores Torresola, was tracked down by Secret Service agents Thursday night. She was taken to the federal house of detention and a federal official, who refused to be quoted, said she had been on a hunger strike since the arrest.

Mrs. Torresola, her dark eyes smoldering, during her arraignment yesterday, heard a U.S. attorney say she "expressed herself in entire sympathy with the attempt on the President's life." She was held in default of $50,000 bail on a charge of conspiring to injure the President.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(UP)—The Russian air force has about 14,000 planes, including jet fighters and B-WO type medium bombers, according to the Naval Aviation News.
